Summary A purple elder all summer long.

Description

The purple, nearly black colour of this variety of Elder lasts all summer long. The shrub tolerates half shade, but planting it in full sun, emphasizes the beautiful colour of the foliage. Its growth is bushy with straight branches. In May - June, the big, delicate flowers are deep pink, turning light pink and finally white, contrasting well with the dark foliage. They are pleasantly lemon scented. At the end of summer, the dark purple, later black berries are appreciated by the birds. BLACK BEAUTY...
